

Western Barndoor Hill Preserve Trail Map

A Granby Land Trust Property

WESTERN BARNDOOR HILL PRESERVE USAGE GUIDELINES

- Property open from dawn to dusk
- Hiking is encouraged
- Hunting prohibited
- Please leave property as you found it

TRAIL GUIDE

Distance (round-trip): .86 of a mile
Vertical gain: 343'

BLUE TRAIL From the Western Barndoor Hill Preserve Parking Area located on Barndoor Hill Road 1 (sign marks parking area), walk up Kettle Pond Lane to the Trailhead Sign and Trail Entrance 2 on the left. From the Trailhead, follow the blue-blazed trail up to the top of the Western Barndoor Hill where you will be treated to a beautiful view 3 of the McLean Game Refuge's Eastern Barndoor Hill and beyond.

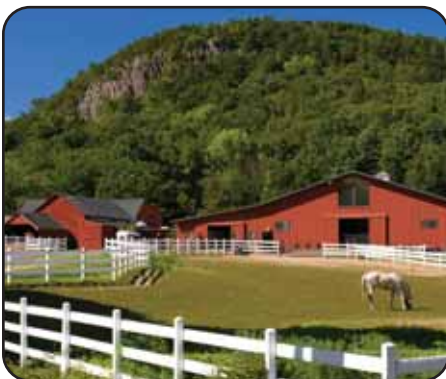

This moderate hike to the lookout should take approximately 35 minutes. We encourage you to use extreme caution at the lookout due to the steep cliff below.

www.GranbyLandTrust.org

The Granby Land Trust works to preserve Granby's Natural Heritage through the conservation of its scenic vistas, open space corridors, wildlife habitat, ecologically sensitive areas, and agricultural land.

Founded in 1972, the Land Trust owns approximately 1,100 acres in Granby and has preserved another 600 acres through conservation easements. In addition to acquiring land, the Land Trust protects and cares for these properties.

Working with a range of conservation partners, the Land Trust is committed to forever preserving Granby's rural character and its beautiful places. To join us or learn more about making a land gift, please visit www.GranbyLandTrust.org

Photos courtesy of Peter Dinella